CONFISCATE KNIVES AS COPS ENFORCE NEW BAN

Thirty-one illegal knives were confiscated by Daly City police Wednesday evening in a "raid" on seven local stores to put some backbone in Daly City's switchblade knife ordinance, enacted last week as an emergency measure.

Surprised store owners, most of whom said they had no knowledge of the new legislation, were nevertheless cooperative, according to Sgt. Dave Hansen and Officer Charles Terry, who made the knife round-up. Passed under emergency status on November 26, the law banning possession or sale of snap or switch blade knives became effective immediately. Normally an ordinance does not take effect until 30 days after passage.

While violation of the ordinance is a misdemeanor, none of the merchants, mostly hardware store proprietors, were arrested because few had knowledge of the law, Sgt. Hansen said.

Knives confiscated included one switch blade and 30 with blades over the maximum three inches permitted under the ordinance. The legislation also outlaws snap and spring blade knives. Two of the stores each had 11 of the illegal blades, while the remainder were divided among five outlets.

Disposition of the cutlery will be up to chief of police Roland Petrocchi, but the knives will probably be returned to the dealers, who have asked that they be allowed to send them back to the distributors.

Wednesday's raid marked the first wide-scale effort to enforce the knife ban in San Mateo county, although several Peninsula cities have enacted similar legislation.

Daly City also became the first to make an arrest under the law last weekend when they picked up a 17-year-old for brandishing a knife at a San Francisco police officer.

Ironically, another knife-wielding incident occurred here last weekend within a few days of the ordinance's passage when a 15-year-old girl stabbed two 16-year-old boys in an incident at a local theater.

Passed as an emergency law to prevent such outbursts of violence, the knife ordinance also prohibits loitering in public places, giving power of arrest where crowds of juveniles threaten to create a disturbance.

Knife-Wielding DC Youth Nabbed After Loot Try

Two "off-duty" San Francisco policemen disarmed a youthful Daly City switchblade knife artist Sunday night after they caught him and his younger brother rifling the glove compartment of a car on Hanover street.

Police here said the two boys, 14 and 17, have been turned over to county juvenile authorities.

The two San Francisco police officers, Charles E. Reske and Elmer R. Black, were at Reske's home, 430 Hanover, when they noticed the pair raiding the Reske vehicle in front of the house.

When the two men went out on the porch the two boys fled. But the officers gave chase in a car and stopped the youths at the corner of Whittier and Hanover.

The older boy then pulled a switchblade knife and moved toward Black, who pulled his gun and ordered the juvenile to drop the weapon. The boy meekly surrendered.

Police booked the older boy for tampering with a vehicle, carrying a switchblade knife and assault with intent to kill.

The incident marked the first time the switchblade knife law has been used in San Mateo county.

DC Teen Girl, 15, Stabs Two Youths In Movie Scuffle

A lipstick smearing incident Friday night at Serra theater sent two 16-year-old Daly City youths to Junipero Serra hospital with stab wounds after a 15-year-old Jefferson High girl turned on them with a penknife.

Victims, both of whom suffered deep wounds on their left arms were Larry Delfino, 348 Chester street, and Marcus Glover, 99 Bepeler street. Delfino was hospitalized overnight, while Glover was released after 14 stitches were taken in his forearm.

Their assailant, who fled the scene and was found by officers at her home, was turned over to county juvenile authorities Saturday morning.

According to police, the horseplay started while the two boys were sitting beside the girl, who had been accompanied to the movie by her sister and another friend, both 13.

Police said one of the youths asked the girl for her lipstick in exchange for his penknife. When she complied, she said, Delfino attempted to smear her face with lipstick while Glover held her. The girl, however, managed to open the penknife and stabbed Delfino.

Glover followed her to the lobby, officers said, and a scuffle ensued, during which the girl slashed Glover. Another unidentified youth wrestled the knife away from the girl before she fled.

Howard Naify, theater manager, rushed the boys to the hospital and summoned police.

HOUSEWIFE FACES SUPERIOR COURT IN RUNAWAY CASE

A 34-year-old Daly City housewife, mother of six children, has been held to answer in superior court on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Mrs. Olita Ruffer, 189 Alexander avenue, is accused of hiding a 16-year-old girl who was arrested here November 25 as a runaway from her home in Portland, Oregon.

Both the girl and her boy friend, Neil Rezende, a boarder at the Ruffer home, are in custody of juvenile authorities. The youth faces a charge of parole violation, having previously been booked for theft and turned over to the California Youth Authority.

City Must Tend To Its Own Fences

Over-sized fences are the city's business and not the Westlake Improvement association's.

This was the opinion, in words to that effect, given the city council Wednesday night by City Attorney Frank Blum.

Application of three Westlake residents for variances to build fences over the city's six-foot maximum created a furore last week, as the Westlake property owners group claimed the city would be violating their deed restrictions prohibiting fences over five feet.

The association's attorney, Hartley Appleton, had indicated his group might take legal action if the city allowed the property owners to build the king-sized fences.

According to Blum, the restrictions and covenants are a matter between the builder and owner. "It is a universal law," he continued, "that the city can't delegate its legislative powers."

Quoting a superior court decision, Blum said where building restrictions may exist in a subdivision the city can zone the property otherwise and that "restrictions are immaterial to the city in approving zoning and permits."

He concluded that "restrictions in the deeds are not binding on legislative action."

On the basis of Blum's opinion, the council is expected to grant the fence variances at Monday night's regular meeting. Planning commission has recommended approving the applications.

$35,000 Project Told By Sanitation Dist.

Construction of a $35,000 outfall line to carry wastes from the sewage treatment plant to the ocean was outlined Monday by the North San Mateo County Sanitation district board of directors.

Work on the facility is scheduled to start this year. Director Del Wilson reported on the project at this week's meeting.

In other action Monday, directors:

1. Learned that Daly City had agreed to install bar screen at entrance to Lake Merced tunnel.

2. Heard report from plant superintendent M. H. Coblenz explaining difficulty district has had in disposing of sludge from the treatment plant. The material, which reportedly makes a good fertilizer, is being offered for sale by the district.

3. Approved vacation this month for L. Dielissen.

4. Authorized purchase of 250 feet of fire hose.

Expect Capacity Crowd For City Xmas Concert

A capacity crowd is expected to fill the War Memorial Building Friday night next week when the Daly City Recreation Department presents its annual Christmas Concert starting at 8 o'clock.

The free program will feature fitting selections by Daly City's Municipal Band, under the baton of George Brenner, and numbers by the Colma School Choral Group, directed by Miss Muriel Vent.

"Bad weather dimmed last year's concert," commented Brenner, "but this time we're hoping all the folks in Daly City will turn out to make this the best one of all."

Band selections will include: "March The Invincible Eagle," by John Philip Sousa; selections from "My Fair Lady," Allen Learner and F. Low; "Sounds

MODESTAN TO ASSUME REC POST

Dee R. van Nest, 32-year-old Modestan, was named yesterday as Daly City superintendent of parks and recreation, filling a vacancy that has existed for nine months.

van Nest, currently employed as superintendent of parks and recreation in Stanislaus county (population 150,000) will assume his position here December 17, according to City Manager Howard Stites, who confirmed the appointment yesterday.

The new recreation chief's starting salary will be $516 a month.

Preparatory to taking over the helm of the recreation department, van Nest toured Daly City recreation sites and facilities yesterday with Fred Avilez, assistant to the city manager, and recreation supervisors.

The appointee has held the top recreation position in Stanislaus county since 1953. Prior to that he served two years as superintendent of recreation in Reno, Nev., and previously was employed seven years with City of Glendale as supervisor of special events and youth activities before and while attending college.

He was graduate from Los Angeles State college in 1951. van Nest served two and a half years with the U. S. Navy as a baker, receiving his honorable discharge in December 1945.

His wife, Ruth, and son, Jeff, 4, will remain in Modesto until after Christmas, at which time the family will take up residence here.

Asked his initial impression of the Daly City recreation facilities, van Nest said they were "fine, especially the war memorial building." His goal here, he said, was a "well balanced type of recreation and new recreation facilities development program. The two go hand in hand. The ultimate air is to provide recreation for all the citizens."

The recreation superintendent job in Daly City has gone begging since James Mason's resignation last spring. Since his departure the job has been held on a temporary basis by Frank Ingersoll.

UPHOLD 4 YEAR CIVIL SERVICE ELIGIBILITY LISTS FOR FIRE DEPT.

Personnel Board OK's Old Ruling

Four-year civil service eligibility lists will not be abandoned until the current lists of names are used up, the Daly City personnel board ruled in a unanimous vote Tuesday night.

Their action ended the controversy over whether a new one-year list should be substituted for the four-year rating. Principal opponent of abandoning the current list was Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy, who said it would be unfair to men waiting on the list several years to require them to take the examination over again for placement on a one-year list. City Manager Howard Stites had argued that the one-year lists gave more incentive to employees and enabled the city to secure top personnel.

Last month City Attorney Frank Blum had said the four-year lists might be invalid, since they were established without public hearing.

His recent recommendation indicated, however, that the personnel board could retain the four-year lists until they were exhausted.

Issue of overtime policy was held over to be included as part of the sweeping changes in civil service rules, which will be reviewed at a public hearing.

On ruling of the city attorney, the personnel board voted to exclude the Daly City Employees' association representative from attending meetings devoted to salaries or individual personalities.

Barbara Galindo, representing the employees, said her group had no objection to the ruling.

In other action, the board approved a revised duty statement for the position of recreation maintenance man 1, and approved the following employment list for park maintenance man 1: Roy Culp, Vincent De Bono, Nicholas Petropoulos, Donald Potter, Donald Cicchi, John Corcoran, Clemence Klingenberg and William Wood.

'FAMILY FRIEND' FACES KIDNAPING, 3 OTHER CHARGES

A "family friend" who allegedly turned desperado and kidnaped a South San Francisco couple at gunpoint will appear in municipal court Tuesday for preliminary hearing on charges of kidnaping, assault with a deadly weapon, possession of a deadly weapon and tampering with public telephone lines.

Meat packer Homer Watson, 42, of 162 Washington street, Colma, was arrested last Friday by South San Francisco police for the alleged abduction of a man and wife from their home. Watson, unable to make $20,000 bail or $40,000 bond, is being held in county jail pending the hearing.

According to police, Watson, an ex-convict, smashed his way through the front door of the home of Samuel and Vadalee Aplet, 854 Commercial avenue, brandishing a butcher knife and a .45 caliber revolver. He was reportedly aroused because Mrs. Aplet, then grabbed the woman and dragged her some 200 feet to his car. Aplet followed, but entered the car when Watson turned the business end of the gun on him.

The alleged victims said Watson drove them around the vicinity of the Colma cemeteries, and finally released them after extracting a promise that they would not press charges.

Although Watson had severed the telephone connection at the Aplet home before spiriting the couple away, the woman's mother, Mrs. Ruth Rodgers, was able to notify police from a phone at a neighbor's home.

Broadmoor police placed a stakeout at the Watson home, and arrested him when he drove up a few minutes later.

Council To Deliberate On Monday

Sentiment expressed at study session Wednesday night indicated that the city council will approve recommendation of the personnel board Monday to retain the four-year civil service eligibility list.

An opinion by City Attorney Frank Blum indicated that the controversial four-year lists for firemen and fire captain might not be valid because of failure of the personnel board to extend the lists every six months, as provided for by civil service rules. Blum said, however, that it appeared to be the intent of the board to extend the lists.

The three councilmen present, Mayor Joseph Verducci, Paul Hupf and Sanford Vickers, expressed willingness to uphold the board's recommendation, not as a matter of policy but for the two specific fire department employment lists involved.

"If we made the lists invalid we'd open the door to all sorts of problems," opined Hupf.

Rules "Antiquated" Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy, arguing for the retention of the four-year lists until they are exhausted, said the civil service rules "are so antiquated they don't even apply today."

Verducci at first balked at approving the lists if they were invalid, but said he was "emotionally" in favor of backing up the personnel board by maintaining the lists.

Other items considered which will come up at Monday's regular session included:

1. Authorization for engineer Cyril Weiler to travel to Port Hueneme next Tuesday to participate in auction of Navy surplus equipment. Weiler will attempt to purchase a bulldozer and a pump, plus miscellaneous equipment, with the approximately $5500 funds available.

2. Removal of Zanone Lands, recently annexed, from Broadmoor Police and Colma Lighting (Continued on Page 2)

DEC. 26 IS DIRECTOR'S FIRST DAY

Selection of a 47-year-old North Hollywood engineer to serve as Daly City director of public works, heretofore held on a temporary basis, was announced Wednesday night by City Manager Howard Stites.

Scheduled to assume the $801 a month position December 26 is Otis T. Chouh, who for the past nine years has served as assistant airport engineer for the department of airports in Los Angeles.

Calhoun, a native of Benton, Ark., has held various engineering positions throughout the state since he was graduated from University of California at Los Angeles in 1930 with a bachelor of science degree in civil engineering. He was awarded his masters degree at University of Southern California in 1955.

The appointee is married and has a son attending UCLA.

For the past year and a half, Cyril Weiler has been serving as temporary director of public works. He could not be named permanently to the position, not being a registered civil engineer in California. Weiler, receiving $628 a month for his duties, announced his impending resignation three months ago after becoming eligible for a federal engineering position.

He will remain here as an engineer, however, until his appointment comes through for the federal post, Stites said.

DC Police Book Two SF Salesmen For Drunk Driving

Two San Francisco salesmen were arrested here on charges of drunk driving last Thursday night, one of them after a 95-mile-an-hour chase down Mission street into Colma.

Martin G. Flaherty, 23, of 18 Dorland street, was released on $500 bail and is expected to answer charges of speeding and drunk driving in municipal court next Tuesday. He was booked after police chased him east on Knowles avenue from Westlake and South on Mission until he was forced to the curb in Colma.

Francis V. Gallagher, 35, of 615 Larch avenue, also posted $500 bail and is due in court next Tuesday. He was nabbed at Hillside and Mission by a San Francisco police officer who was returning from serving a warrant here.

Flaherty flunked a sobriety test at Junipero Serra hospital, while a quart bottle of whiskey was taken as evidence against Gallagher.

BOLD THIEF GETS $1695 LOOT FROM BAR OWNER'S HOME

A bold burglar made a $1695.90 haul in jewelry, clothing and other valuables last Saturday when he raided a home at 561 Hillside boulevard.

Victim was Mitchell Abdo, a tavern owner, who said the theft occurred between 12:30 p.m. and 11:30 p.m.

According to the police report, the culprit entered by forcing open a window on the front stairway. Drawers in all rooms were ransacked and the invader also "toured" the garage and rumpus room.

Items taken were man's diamond ring, valued at $1200; a man's wrist watch, $175; a topcoat, $135; a man's suit, $90; a gold wedding band, $90; a billfold containing valuable papers, and a bottle of vodka.

PREVENTS FROSTING

When an automobile is parked outdoors at night in freezing weather, the windshield is often covered with ice in the morning. An easy way to avoid this, says the California State Automobile Association, is to place large flexible cards under the windshield wipers. These are easily removed in the morning, leaving the windshield clear and bright.

The engine in a modern automobile is a far cry from its pre-war counterpart. It delivers a lot more power but because of closer tolerances and precision tuning requirements, it needs more attention. The California State Automobile Association says you will enjoy full power from your car's engine only if carburetion, ignition, valve adjustments and other service points receive regular attention.

BPOA To Plant 5000 Trees To Prevent Erosion

A major tree planting program, which will have both aesthetic and practical use, was outlined by the Broadmoor Property Owners association board of directors at a special meeting last week.

On the aesthetic side, the association plans to plant palms in the highlands areas in front yards between the homes and the street.

To offer erosion protection, 5000 Monterey pines will be planted on the steep hillside areas. During the next two weeks representatives of the association will call on owners of hillside homes to gain their approval for planting the trees in their back yards.

Actual planting will be launched in January when 5000 seedlings between four and 10 inches high will be set in the ground.

An additional 1000 of the pines will be available for homeowners individual use.

Directors also discussed the Nativity scene to be erected at the entrance to Broadmoor at 87th and Washington streets. Churches of the area will be invited to sing carols at the scene.

Youth of the area are invited to help decorate a Christmas tree which will be erected at the Broadmoor community center. Those interested in working on the project are asked to contact Virginia Voreyer.

Also up for discussion at the special session was the annexation of the McKean County Sanitation district. The BPOA opposed the annexation on the grounds that it would "put an additional load on already inadequate drains" in the Broadmoor area. Don Williams, chairman of the association's committee on drainage and erosion, entered an official protest for the BPOA at last week's public hearing before county supervisors.

PERSONALITY SKETCH
Speaking in a deep resonant voice carrying all the authority of a skilled attorney, as host-narrator of NBC's popular television series "On Trial" (KRON-TV, 9 p.m. Fridays) actor Joseph Cotten is particularly well cast for the part. This is our impression after meeting and talking to him at a party held at the Fairmont Hotel last week. Charming and handsome, the tall slim actor held the interest of the group relating stories and experiences during his long and successful career in the movies, on the stage, and now television.

"On Trial" is a program based on dramatized adaptations of eminent, often notorious court trials based on official documents from all nations and all periods of legal history. We asked Cotten about the public response to the program, particularly from those in the legal profession. He said that so far they haven't received any adverse criticism from any attorneys, which indicates to them that the programs so far have been authentic as far as legal procedures are concerned.

Joseph Cotten has played many memorable roles in the movies including such famous productions as "Citizen Kane," "Philadelphia Story," "Lydia" and "Journey to Fear" on the Broadway stage. One of his most recent plays was "Sabrina Fair" with Margaret Sullivan. He first appeared on television in 1954 in "The High Green Wall." Other television programs include "Light's Diamond Jubilee" and an NBC spectacular "Stage of the Union."

In Southern California the Cottens live in an Italian style residence built on five levels with a magnificent view of the Malibu coastline from every window and terrace. However, while talking to the guests, Cotten revealed that he would like to live in the bay area, in fact he said, "Mrs. Cotten would like to live in Belvedere." However, he said because of his work down south this would not be practicable.

With all the wealth of material and drama there is in court trials we feel certain "On Trial" will continue to hold the interest of the viewers.

Francis Previews '57 Scholarships For Hi Graduates

Nearly 1280 scholarships for high school graduates may be granted by the California State Scholarship Commission in 1957, Assemblyman Louis Francis of San Mateo announced today.

These scholarships can be used at over 40 California colleges and universities. Each is for an amount equal to the tuition and necessary fees up to a maximum of $600 per academic year. There are no restrictions as to the type of undergraduate course program selected by a scholarship winner.

Applicants for scholarships must take a scholastic aptitude test of the College Entrance Examination Board at his own expense. The examinations will be held on January 12 and February 16.

a first-hand glimpse of work involved in spring clean up week. She was also instrumental in organizing "David's Parade" through her stories on DAVID STEWARD, the young boy who wanted to have his own parade.

All was not lost when the Colma fire department had their Colombo hall party raided by the alcoholic beverage control boys (for failure to have a permit for sale of spirits).

Before the "jernt" was raided the dance had already taken in $700.

But a lot of good booze was confiscated.

FRANK MONTE of Westlake Richfield gas station says it never rains but it pours blazes.

At 9 a.m. he pulled the fire alarm box, when a blaze started in one of the gas pumps at his and Councilman MICHAEL DE BERNARDI'S station.

Normally he probably wouldn't have the occasion to sound the box alarm again for years.

But three hours later a car caught fire across the street and Frank called on his recent fire alarm box pulling experience and yanked again.

Now they're calling him an alarmist.

SHARING THE NEIGHBOR'S HOUSE

Last week city fathers from several north county cities broke bread to discuss a program of joint use of municipal facilities.

The plan, only in the dream stage now, is geared to cut costs of city government by avoiding duplication of such facilities as firehouses, storm drains, etc. In other words, contiguous cities would share use of nearby facilities.

The councilmen were emphatic in explaining that the cities would still retain their political identity. This we doubt.

The grandiose plan somehow sounds like a step towards the borough system of government. And any city facing loss of its autonomy is unlikely to go for such a program.

The first major block would be determining the extent to which neighboring cities could use another's facilities and the second and major hurdle would be arriving at a formula for sharing costs or matching construction with equal facilities.

The North County Council of Cities is well-intentioned in its efforts but chances of this latest brainchild ever getting beyond the banquet stage are remote.

When the cities' organization can't get together on a uniform salary program after dozens of meetings and formation of sundry study committees, we don't know why they even bother to waste their time with an idea of this magnitude.

A city's political identity is something councilmen usually hold most dear.

We can envision the donnybrooks that would ensue when one city started using another's facilities without plunking down what the latter thought was a fair share of the cost.

Any economies that might be effected by the sharing of facilities would be erased by the red tape and rancor that would be created by such a set-up.

If economy measures are going to be taken, let's leave them to the elected representatives and keep them within our own boundaries. That's where charity begins.

J. W. E. Clardy, a really nice guy and owner of the DALY CITY TIRE STORE at 6465 Mission St., told us this one and it's really "one for the book!" This fellow came in—held up four fingers and said, "I want a tire that will go just FOUR miles." Village Notes

Christmas feeling is definitely in the air, a different sort of thing than Santa Claus and decorations being in evidence too early. There's just the beginning of the special glow that grows through December until it reaches its intensity on Christmas Eve. There are not many who don't feel something of it and are glad.

So that is why we can say that 87th street's Cydney and Karl Hess and their three little girls spent a Christmas card day in the snow not so long ago. They went to Echo Summit with Marie and Rocky Kubowitz and their three children, plus two children Marie takes care of, and had a marvelous time. It was a good day's trip—370 miles—but they spent the noon hours in the snow, when it was warmest, and enjoyed a picnic lunch. It was just as well that they had a change of clothes along for the children—two of them fell in the creek! There was a thin film of ice over said creek, and trees and fields and a bridge were all beautiful, covered with snow. Cydney said the snow was hard and crystalline, which made for excellent sliding without sleds, but she recommends anyone else going snow-waders take along something to slide on!

Dicky Hammond had the singular distinction of being the only boy at Donna Mize's 6th birthday party, which would make him feel very special indeed. Other guests ringing the Mize doorbell on Louvaine were Beth Lichtenberg, Gail Hixon, Claudia Fry, Diane Piggott and Darlene McFarland. With games, favors and food, everybody had a good time.

Double Celebration

Washington's Delfino family had a sort of double celebration on Thanksgiving. In addition to the dinner being a holiday treat, it was also a farewell party for Adriano's father, Elpidio Delfino, who returned home to the Philippines, via the President Lines. All the brothers and sisters and grandchildren gathered at the Larry Montez home on School street for the occasion. Of course, Nita had somewhat to do with the cooking!

Along about this time, we heard about a young man on Sweetwood who also had a birthday party. He didn't have very many years to celebrate, so he didn't ask too many guests, but they had as much party as anyone could have, and went home happy and full of cake. The young man's name is Lee Mattison, the party was for his second birthday, and his guests included Mike Sinclair, Michael and Marilyn Hoffman, and Bruce Watts, and their respective mothers.

Being a girl with bright ideas, Mary Ann Shields of Edgewood planned a very clever sort of 11th birthday party for herself. Her sixteen guests came dressed as babies, complete with ruffles, bibs and the like. They shared a hot dog barbecue, prepared in the large fireplace, and a large sheet cake, with all the guests' names on it in such a way that each received a personalized portion. "Babies" attending were Gwendolene Zanone, Maureen Marconi, Mary Woods, Susan Murray, Judy and Sandy Thiemann, Maureen Jolly, Cathy Adams, Susan Bobbitt, Carol Cordano, Joan da Rosa, Helen Allen, Phyllis McQuade, Diana Cafferatta and Charlene Naught.

Not to be outdone, Sister Margie Shields had a 14th birthday the week before, a slumber party. Sharing middle of the night conversations were Patty and Barbara Thiemann, Joanna Silva, and Cecilia Gilbert.

Sorority Party

Another group of young people went a-partying also, this time at Donna Fisher's Thornhill home. She entertained a group of Tri Sigma sorority sisters, and was one of the pledges who received her pin during the formal initiation ceremonies. The big sisters of the group treated the new members to an evening at Fack's, following Donna's party, and a gay good time was had by all the 65 girls and their escorts. The sorority group are all students at San Mateo Junior College, and are currently working on Christmas projects for hospitals.

News from Midway: Marilyn and Karen Mattison and Roxanne Reyes were the queens of the schoolyard the day they wore their lovely orchid leis to school. Leis were a gift from Roxanne's father, Enrique Reyes. Helen Saper is home after surgery, and doing very well, for which everyone is glad. Billy and Jimmy Abbott had a going-away party before they moved to SF. Every child on the street, practically, gathered on the Abbott front lawn to enjoy ice cream cones. Bouquets to neighbors who helped Rosemary Lametia with house and children when she was so ill with flu.

88th street's Wanda Milani and family had her sister, Melba Cantrell, and her family for Thanksgiving. Wanda's brother, Don Tannehill, gathered up his tribe and went to Sacramento for a few days to see wife Pat's family, the Ed Kneedels. Don is one of those very necessary people to have around—a member of the California Highway Patrol.

Fun On Rides

Seen at the rides in Westlake: Vi and Vin Murphy taking turns escorting jubilant Johnny and Peggy on the ferris wheel. . . . Rena Corso holding down a triumphant Tommy on the ferris wheel and the merry-go-round. . . . Marge and Nan McKay collecting young ones after assorted whirlings. . . . A postman enjoying the rides as much as his two blue-coated small girls. . . . Marguerite Smith watching the dizzy progress of her two on the whirl-around (or whip, or whatever!)

Thanksgiving echoes: Heard that Jim and Jean and young Sandy Nourse entertained the Borgman family for Thanksgiving at their Montrose home. The Borgmans are the Dutch family Jean is co-sponsoring, and this is the first such traditional American meal they have had. Except for turkey, everything was new to them, and except for pumpkin pie, they liked it all. Jean told us that the whole family, especially the children, love apples and eat them by the bushel! Jean's other daughter, Lee Schmidt, together with husband Paul and their two children, was also there. While we're speaking of Jean, we think she should be applauded for all she has done to help the Borgmans and make them feel at home. There are several other people, too, who have also helped immeasurably.

Projects around town include the fixing up of the Gene O'Brien back yard on Thornhill, with many friends putting in a Saturday afternoon's work, and the carpentering going on at the Logan menage on 90th street. Said carpentering, directed by Carlos Mattison, is all in the line of enlarging the master bedroom and adding another bath. Ask Ray how heavy a hammer can get! Another project underway is the nice new coat of green paint Mac and Micky Magnusson are putting on their Bradley home. Just the right holiday color, too.

This and That

The welcome mat is out for Bob and Mimi Ellis, now 89th Streeters. They own and operate the R. G. Ellis Printing Company in DC (!). Young Eric Knutilla of Maddux is wearing a sling these days while he's waiting for a broken collar bone to mend. . . . Lots of people want to know why there isn't a special speedy check stand at King's for those with five or less items. We'll buy that, too. . . . Manuel Silva, GV School's omnipresent janitor, hasn't been around lately. Checking, we found out he had been in and out of JS Hospital with a bad back, and was, at latest report, in the hospital in traction. Hope he is out and feeling better by the time this sees print.

Elaine Wilson became a young lady of 5 recently, and had a family-and-close-friends dinner to celebrate. Sisters Cathy, Susan and Margie, parents Judy and Stan, and friends Barbara, John, and small Ricky, Gail and Greg-Bodmer, and special friend Sheri Scott all shared the cake at Elaine's Maddux home. Incidentally, Judy W. told us she had visited in Los Altos with ex-Villager Reba Nye, who is very busy with AAUW Christmas activities. Reba said to say hello to all the friends up this way.

Tale of a Frog

Seems that Beth and Ramey Lichtenberg came home from their Thanksgiving pheasant hunt with a frog, Jumper by name. Father Ray L. got pretty tired of seeing it moping in a jar around the Lichtenberg home on Louvaine, so he prescribed a move. Move was made to Garden Lane, to Sabina Fairbanks' garden lily pond. Frog is no longer moping, we trust!

Meet new little girl living on Thornhill these days. Her name is Jennifer Robin, and she is the special property of parents Pat and Ray Love, and brother David. There will no doubt be a nice fat stocking by the mantel for this 7-1b., 13-oz. small one's first Christmas.

There are several very proud men around the Calloway home on MacArthur, namely father Bill and sons Billy and Mike. Seems there is a new girl at their house, too, which pleases mother Mary, you may be sure. Her name is Colleen Rose, and she weighed 8-lbs., 11 oz. Another specially happy holiday for another Village family.

DC WOMAN AMONG FIRST TO GET 'NEW' SOCIAL SECURITY CHECKS

Francis Proposes Bill To Strengthen Drunk Driving Laws

Twenty-fifth district Assemblyman Louis Francis said this week that he will introduce a bill to strengthen drunk driving laws and to increase punishment of convicted drunk drivers.

Francis made this announcement in a talk before the Burlingame-San Mateo Insurance Agents association at the Chukker Restaurant in San Mateo.

The assemblyman's proposed bill would make it unlawful for any person under the influence of intoxicating liquor to drive a vehicle upon any highway. Any person convicted under this act would be subject to from five days to six months in jail and a fine of not less than $250 nor more than $500. A second conviction on the same charge provides for a prison term of 20 days to one year and a fine of not less than $500.

Anyone convicted would also forfeit his operators license under the bill.

Local Teachers Give Blood

Jefferson Elementary teachers have donated 44 pints of blood to the County Teachers Blood Bank since February 1955, it was announced today. On October 30 the Daly City Rotary club was instrumental in having the blood mobile brought to the Westlake school. On this occasion Miss Virginia McGarry of the Benjamin Franklin school and Wallace Reid of Colma Primary school each donated their fourth pint of blood and Dr. Pauline Thompson, also of Colma Primary, donated her fifth pint.

The County teachers' blood bank has at this time 121 pints in the reserve blood bank for the use of county employed teachers and their families. All donations have been made by teachers of San Mateo county. Chairman for the County Teachers' Blood Bank is Althea Bell, speech coordinator for Jefferson Elementary School district.

Their Thanksgiving pheasant hunt with a frog, Jumper by name. Father Ray L. got pretty tired of seeing it moping in a jar around the Lichtenberg home on Louvaine, so he prescribed a move. Move was made to Garden Lane, to Sabina Fairbanks' garden lily pond. Frog is no longer moping, we trust!

This is our biggest affair of the year and all the members give it their maximum effort. Many things are done for the children and the school from the proceeds we receive from the bazaar.

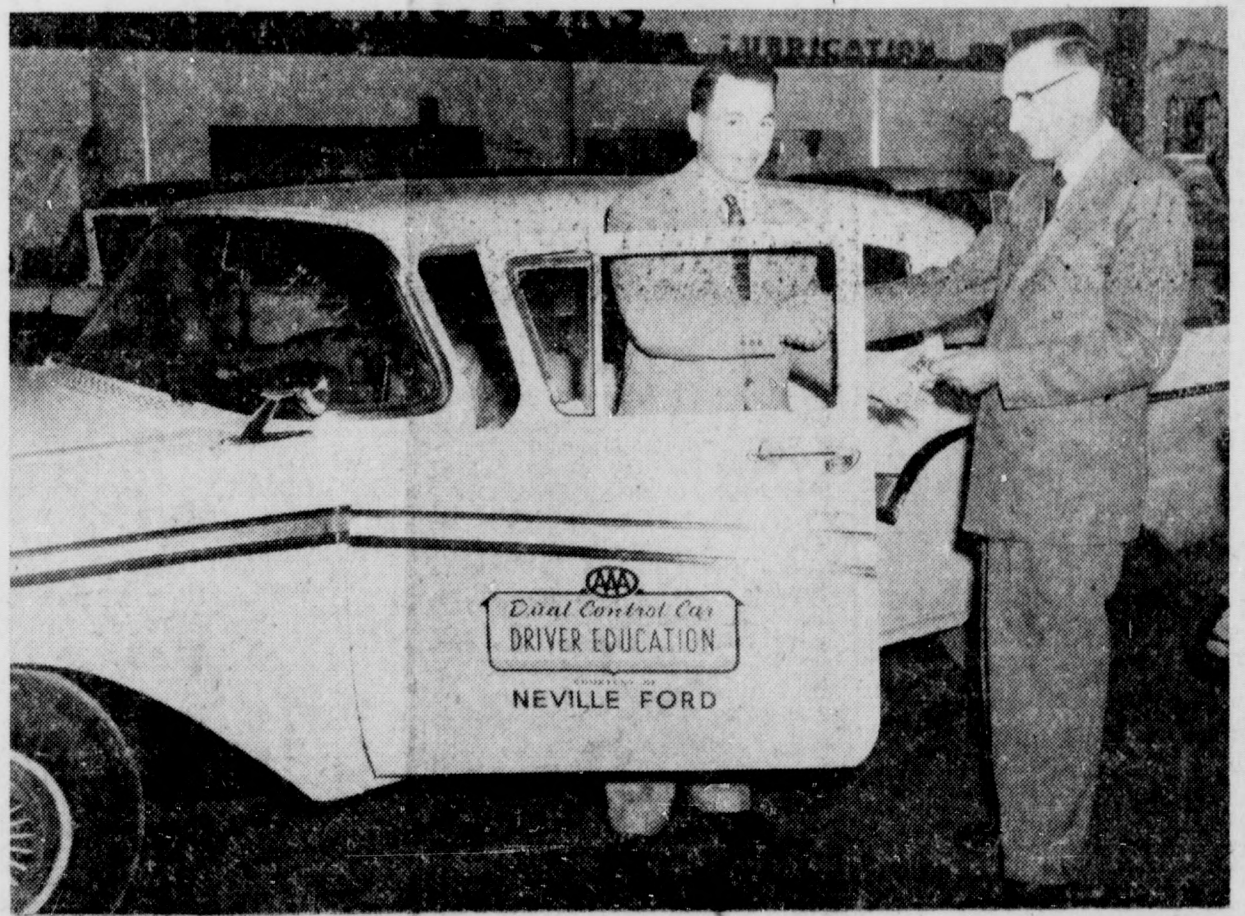

Our bazaar this year was a success and we feel a great deal was due to the wonderful coverage given it by THE RECORD.

Thank you, both officially and personally.

Sincerely yours,
Publicity Chairman
Dorothy Peterson

The CHARLES F. DUNIGANS of School street have added not one but two names to the safety pin set with the arrival of twin daughters on November 11 at UC hospital. Grandparents are Fred Dunigan of Los Angeles and Mrs. Frances Wineberg, who resides with the Dunigans.

A "super" time was had by Greg and Gray Hansen, Laura Dale, Henry Barsotti Jr., Rose Seate, Brian Arnold, Jill Pifer, Bobby Bjournier, Lou and Larry Pietrelli, Romelle Johnson, and Ronald's brother, Gary.

The FRANK PRISCOS, formerly of Brunswick, are all settled in their new home in Crestmoor Park. LINDA NOFZIGER of Clark street is back in circulation after a mild case of the mumps. GARY BERNARDINI, also of Clark, is the latest one to be bedded down with the mumps. Chicken pox has stayed on at the BARULICH home on Abbot, with 3-month-old LARRY taking his turn after his brother, DANNY.

A memo to that certain SANTA's helper on Abbot: You had better get that suit out of moth balls—sounds like you're going to be a busy guy. Seaman First Class DALE FAMBRI is enjoying a 29-day furlough with his parents on Tallwood drive after many months of duty in Atlantic City, New Jersey. SANDY PICCARDO of W. Moltke is getting around these days on crutches after parting company with her cast.

An accident in his backyard has BILLY VAN AKEN of Abbot sporting a green stick fracture.

The council meeting last Monday evening missed one of its best onlookers, BOB YOUNG of Valley street, who has been in the St. Luke's hospital for a week of observation. Seems Young, a very civic-minded person, was more upset on hearing that he would miss his first meeting than being in the hospital.

Just a few days before her departure for Salt Lake City OPAL BOSS was given a luncheon party by two of her neighbors and friends on Atlanta. Peg Schultz and Jan Buchanan, at the latter's home. The farewell affair was witnessed by Lou Parrish, Lydia Beer and Hertha Bretz.

CULPRIT TAPS TILL WHILE STORE OWNER WORKS IN BACK ROOM

A light-footed thief took $68 in small bills from the cash drawer of a Mission street dress shop Monday afternoon while the owner was working in the back room.

Mrs. Leona Lombardi, owner of the Mode O' Jay Shop, 6428 Mission, said the incident occurred between 3 and 4 o'clock. She didn't discover the loss until about 5:30 p.m. when she opened the cash drawer to pay a garbage bill.

The woman told officers she had heard a noise in the front of the store but couldn't see who was there because a clothing rack blocked her view.

300 PTAsers View, Hear Xmas Program

Over 300 persons were at the Jefferson Elementary School this week to see the annual Christmas program presented to the Colma PTA by the Jefferson school glee club under Miss Clara Dayton, director. The Jefferson school annex carolers sang with Mrs. Muriel Vint as director.

The meeting was held in the multipurpose room Tuesday evening with Mrs. Gino Marchetti presiding. The pledge of allegiance was led by Mrs. Adolph Silvestri. Mrs. F. Caraway read a character thought on "Generosity" and a card was read by Mrs. Silvestri, thanking the PTA for three Christmas trees given to the school.

Mrs. Dayton's class won the pennant for the month of December for having the most parents at the meeting.

The next activity will be the sewing and sunshine Christmas party Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Andrew Castle, 354 Abbott avenue.

Refreshments were served to all by the hospitality chairman, Mrs. Frank Hanly, and committee: Mrs. John Guastavino, room representative chairman; Mrs. F. Cougoule, Mrs. Mitchell, Mrs. W. J. Dillaboy, Mrs. W. H. Albee Jr., Mrs. Roy Fairchild, and Mrs. Ray Monson.

COUNTY LAUNCHES HEALTH STUDY ON ELEMENTARY KIDS

San Mateo County Department of Public Health and Welfare has begun a county-wide survey of the immunization level of school children, kindergarten through eighth grade, with regard to diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus, smallpox and polio.

Purposes of the study, which is expected to be completed next July, are: 1) To determine the level of protection of children against these diseases in order to indicate where special immunization efforts should be directed, and 2) To determine the susceptible (non-vaccinated) and immune (vaccinated) proportions of these children with regard to polio in order to figure more accurate rates of occurrence and better assess the value of polio vaccine.

Jefferson Elementary School District trustees last week endorsed local participation in the survey.

THE CAST of "The Man Who Came to Dinner," takes time out to pose for a camera shot. Jefferson High School students presented the popular comedy "in the round, a play form in which the staging and action takes place in an open area with the audience facing the center on all four sides. "The Man" marked the fifth production of its type presented by the high school drama department, under direction of Miss Eunice Seaton.

JEFF HI THESPIANS SPARKLE IN 'THE MAN WHO CAME TO DINNER'

The dramatics department at Jefferson High School in Daly City recently presented the Kaufman-Hart comedy, "The Man Who Came to Dinner," as their fall production. It was performed in the round, a play form in which the staging and action takes place in an open area with the audience facing the center on all four sides as in a boxing arena.

The student thespians who acted in the many roles of the uproarious comedy by George S. Kaufman and Moss Hart gave convincing performances that made it a huge success. "The Man" in the title of the play refers to Mr. Whiteside, a lecturer famous for his sugary literary tastes and carboic disposition. The role was played by Bruce Freeland, who gave a fine performance in keeping with the character.

Characterizations

Notable also, were the characterizations given by the students who took the supporting roles in the play and which were played by Alda Caggianno, Linda Huffman, Larry Shaw, Sandra Karn, Ron McLain, Phyllis Thur, Roger Filippelli, Sharlee Nelson, Tom Battaglia, Emily Thomas, Jim D'Amour, John Dutcher, Linda Wienholtz, Harold Sharp, Mike Calvello, Wilma Tholen, Mary Ellen Ellis, Bill Strassburger, Richard Hall, Ron Johnson, Ray Navarra, Jay Torr, Jack Rebedew, Earl Pearson, Phil Delucchi, and Gil Campbell. And included in the first shuffle of the action a stanza or two of song could be heard from the voices of Laurel Behm, Lynette Behm, Rick Hinkle, Jimmy Orlich, Tommy Orlich, Nancy Martin and Janet Martin, all of whom were children of members of the Jefferson faculty.

This play pointed out the importance of the supporting roles and has proven to be of particular value in its choice as a school production in that it offers a wide variety of important minor parts from which many students can be appropriately cast.

Favorite Form

Plays "in the round" have become a favorite form of entertainment at Jefferson High school, this being the fifth production of its type presented by its dramatic department under the direction of Miss Eunice Seaton. It is an intimate type of staging that lends itself admirably to this sophisticated modern comedy. It has also been found to be very satisfactory for students as an introductory stage experience since fewer stage directions are needed and the actor and audience are in more intimate contact.

Advance publicity was limited due to the limitations of audience accommodations. Future production plans are tentative and will be announced at the time of decision.

Of special interest to the audience who viewed the performance was the accompanying art exhibit of the work of Jefferson High art students effectively displayed in the auditorium theater entrance.

Tuesday evening the members of the cast were given a dinner at a Coastside restaurant.

Crockerites Report

FIFTH GRADE MRS. McKEOWN

Early last month our class took a field trip to the Cow Palace. Before we left, our art teacher told us to make believe we were cameras and we were to take mental pictures of what we saw. We were taken through the building by a guide who showed us the cattle, horses, Brahma bulls, pigs and dairy cows. We saw men washing and currying the animals. What was most interesting to us was the judging of cows in the arena.

When we returned to school we discussed what we saw and decided to make a mural. Some of us drew the animals. Others drew the scenes along the way on the bus, and still others drew the judging in the arena. We enjoyed making the mural as much as the actual trip.

We have been using a tape recorder in our room. We recorded our reports on the eclipse of the moon. Then we played it back to hear if we spoke clearly enough. We also recorded our singing of Christmas carols. The soloists, John Conaty and Sandra Zannoni, were especially interested in hearing themselves sing.

FOURTH GRADE MISS PEIRA

The boys and girls in our class have started a sea shell collection. Everyone has been bringing sea shells to class so that we now have a large variety. These shells are going to be used both as a science lesson and to decorate for Christmas.

DC Girl, 11, Headlines 'Search For Stars' Event

Eleven-year-old Penny Almquist, a student at Jefferson Elementary school, will appear with the San Francisco Moose Lodge "Search For Stars" show when it appears at Our Lady of Perpetual Help School Auditorium on Saturday evening, December 15.

Penny, who resides at 543 San Diego avenue, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Almquist, and was "discovered" by the famous talent show two years ago and has traveled all over the Bay Area and the surrounding communities with the unit. The benefit show, which will aid the local Boy Scout unit's drive to provide a snow trip for themselves, will mark her first appearance before her home town audience.

Other performers on the show will include Eddie Rejeski, billed as the most outstanding tenor in the Bay Area; San Francisco's Margaret Laine, who's renditions of the melodies of George M. Cohan won her fourth place in the Northern California championships last year; Diane Shelton, state champion majorette; Joe Brattesani, king of the accordion from San Francisco's North Beach, and many more fine young artists from every branch of the theatrical field.

Bill McKavanaugh, who has directed the unit the past five years, will be master of ceremonies, while Clayton Mitchell will direct the music. "Search for Stars" has discovered over 15,000 entertainers in its eight-year history. It is staged at the Moose Auditorium in San Francisco every Friday evening for youngsters anxious to get a start in the entertainment world.

Scout Troop 249 Sets Talent Show To Benefit Needy

Those who plan to attend are urged to bring non-perishable articles of food suitable for Christmas baskets to be donated to needy families in the community.

Bob Echol, assistant scout leader and chairman for the show, promises a versatile program "as the boys have been working very hard for this worthwhile cause."

Quick Action Averts Serious Damage As Gasoline Pump Ablaze

Quick action by the proprietors of a gas station and the Daly City fire department averted major property damage Wednesday morning when a pump full of gasoline caught fire in freak mishap.

Fire broke out near one of the pumps at Westlake Richfield, 151 Southgate avenue, when the bumper of a car pulling away from the station hooked on to the hose, partially knocking the tank down and splashing gas over the side. Conduit leading to the tank was severed, arcing to the spilled gas.

One of the owners, Frank Monte, partially doused the blaze with an extinguisher, after which the firemen arrived to put out a fire which had started inside the tank.

Damage was estimated at $150. The station is owned by Monte and Councilman Michael De Bernardi.

State Rulings Halt Two Local Drivers

Two Daly City men were ordered to refrain from driving by recent action of the California Department of Motor Vehicles.

The state revoked the license of John J. Affolter Jr., 242 Wyandotte street, and suspended the license of Raymond P. Steckler, 118 East Molke street, apartment 42.

Escaping suspension after being convicted for drunk driving were Orville C. Masters, 161 Peoria street, and Louis C. Piccolotti, 112 Santa Rosa avenue, Sharp Park.

Permanent reinstatement was granted Harry W. Steiner, 1467 Rosita road, Pedro Valley.

SF Hosiery Exec Says 'Not Guilty' To Drunk Driving

Gilbert D. Finn, 35-year-old San Francisco hosiery firm executive, pleaded not guilty in municipal court Tuesday to a charge of drunk driving here November 24. Judge Thomas L. Bocci designated next Tuesday for his jury trial.

Finn, 922 Taraval street, was arrested at the corner of Mission Circle and Bepler streets. He flunked a sobriety test at Junipero Serra hospital, police said.

Louise E. Haynes, a waitress of 1423 Quint street, San Francisco, reversed an earlier plea and pleaded not guilty to counts of drunk driving, going through a stop sign and driving without a license. She was booked here November 17. Bocci suspended a 30-day jail sentence on condition she pay a $250 fine.

Two other San Franciscans cited here for drunk driving pleaded guilty and were given the choice of 30 days in jail or $250 fines. They were Mrs. Marylyn Magee, 1574 Ninth avenue, and Joseph A. Morin, 4536 Cabrillo street. Mrs. Magee was arrested November 22 and Morin on November 25.

Dec 5's Second Half Rally Rips Broadmoor, 48-26

The Daly City recreation department elementary school basketball league opened its first round of play Saturday with the elimination tournament champions sponsored by the rec department claiming a 48-26 victory over a good Broadmoor Youth association five.

The BYA club started fast and led throughout the entire first quarter.

Two quick lay-ins before the first half buzzer enabled the rec men to pull ahead, 19-13, at half-time, and they never relinquished the lead.

Scoring honors went to the winners Sonny Stoller who tanked 20, followed by teammate Hilton Gillyard with 14 markers. John Souza topped the losers with eight points.

In other Class A competition, Mike Kennedy tossed in a charity shot with 10 seconds remaining to give his OLPHI cagers a 20-19 win over St. James. Kennedy was top scorer with 13 points.

St. Gabriel's Gaels, defending champs, started off the season in the typical form as they crushed St. Michaels, 47-19. Jim Berry netted 10 to lead Gaels scoring. Jim Smith of St. Michael's copied the day's scoring honors with 14 digits.

In Class B play St. Stephens defeated Westview, 49-2, while St. Gabriel's Babes were winning handily over OLPHI, 30-14. Play in both divisions will continue Saturday.

South, McGrath Designate Jefferson's Best Gridmen

Two All-Star teams, representing Jefferson High's best football players the past 15 years, were announced this week by Glenn South, former Indian mentor, and Joe McGrath, current pigskin boss.

Tydingco, Roy Reitz All-Loopers

Jeff's Gordy Tydingco and Roy Reitz, North PAL lightweight basketball scoring champs, this week were honored on the all-league teams as compiled by the San Mateo Times.

Tydingco, who topped the 10's with 103 points, was a unanimous choice of the nine league coaches. Reitz, who bucketed 116 points for a 14.5 average, got five votes along with San Mateo's Ronnie Howell to head the mythical 20's aggregation.

Westmoor's Dick Reece also was named to the 10's first team, consisting of six players. Others chosen were Capuchino's Al Mariani, Hillsdale's Pete Bentley, San Mateo's Curt Bleye and Carlmont's Gary Justus.

Joining Reitz and Howell on the 20's first string were Dave Shellberg and Tony Broadwood of Burlingame and Ron Stonebridge of Carlmont.

Westmoor's Ross Holmgren, 20's, and Bill Dougherty, 10's were selected on the Honorable Mention lists.

from 1942 through 1951. McGrath's choices cover five years at the helm.

Top man on South's mythical list is Don Mossi, Cleveland Indians' mound ace, who made ALL-PAL and All-Northern California as Jeff QB in 1947.

Jim Honeywell, now a freshman at Stanford, heads McGrath's aggregation. He was a split-T standout for Jeff last year, gaining both All-PAL and All-Northern California first-string recognition.

Two of McGrath's "best" 11 men since he took over helms as Guard Bill Riedstra and End Delmar Scott, two mainstays on this year's aggregation. Riedstra was a shoo-in on the All-Northern PAL first team, while Scott, though unrated, was a steady double-duty performer all season.

All-PAL Correction!

Two misplaced lines "fouled up" the All-Northern PAL football team story in THE RECORD last week. It should have read: End Jim Scheuermann of Burlingame (not South City) on the first team, and the tag lines designating the two squads should have been reversed. Many pardons' boys!

CSM Grid Mentor Guest Speaker At 'Block J' Dinner

Jesse Freitas, College of San Mateo football coach, will be guest speaker at Jefferson High's big "Block J" awards dinner Tuesday night in the school cafeteria at 7 o'clock.

Mike Orlich, Jeff athletic director, will present blocks to members of the frosh-soph and varsity football teams, 10's and 20's basketball players and the Indian cross country squad.

Capping festivities will be a football film entitled, "49er Highlights."

Tuned up by an easy 53-46 romp over a tough Tamalpais squad on Tuesday, Jefferson's tall and talented varsity cagers are ready to shoot the works this Friday afternoon in the Hayward Invitational tourney.

Coach Mike Orlich's team, third in the affair last year, open tourney play at 3:30 o'clock against Menlo-Atherton. They then follow up in a night contest against either the winner or loser of the Hayward-San Lorenzo tilt, depending on how the Indians fare in their first battle. Tourney action continues through Saturday.

The Bishop O'Dowd five copped the Hayward spectacle in '55. Hayward, victors by one point over Jeff, took second. Indian forward Larry Pottinger was a solid choice on the all-tournament team.

Jeff breezed past Tamalpais Tuesday as Orlich experimented with several combinations. Pacing the attack were center Dennis Marc with 12 points and Pottinger with 11. Tam's Schutzman was high man with 18 points, while teammate Johnson got 13.

The Indians, never behind, led at the end of the first quarter, 16-12, were knotted 23-all at halftime, and pushed their lead to 41-33 going into the final period.

Orlich's starters were Pottinger and Bob Comstock at forwards, Tom Cloutier at the pivot, and Barry Haanen and Gary Ryan at guards.

Two hot battles loom for starting berths between Cloutier and Marc, and at guard were Delmar Scott is pressing for regular duty.

Steve Mezzera's 30's hardly worked up a sweat as they dumped the Tamalpais lights, 28-17. Wayne Lewis sparked the triumph with 15 points, followed by Ino Patron's 11.

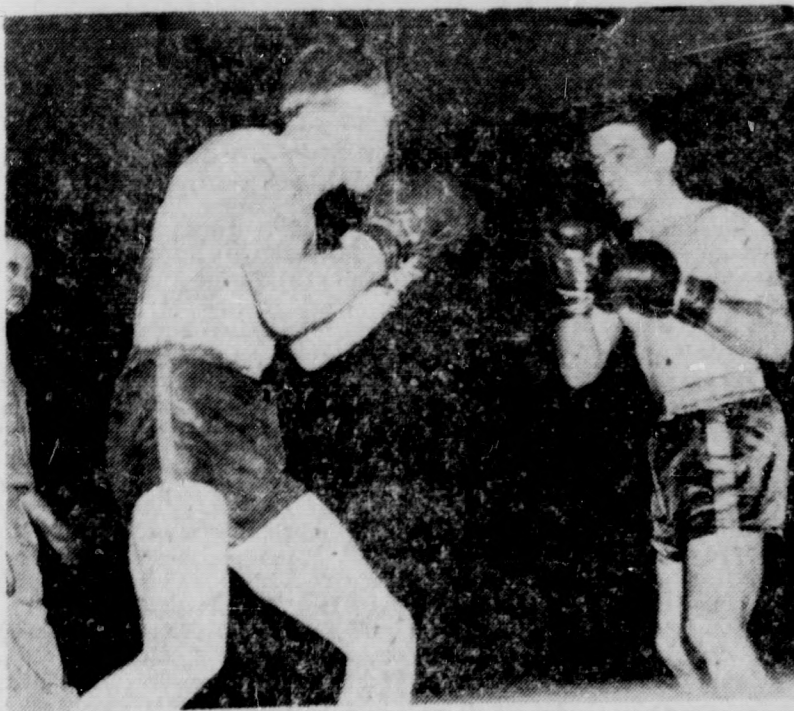

Ahead throughout, Jeff led at the quarter junctures, 10-2, 15-12, and 21-14.

The Indian quints play three road games next week. They clash with Poly of SF on Tuesday, Lincoln of SF on Wednesday and Sonoma on Friday.

BEST BOUT — San Jose's unbeaten Jimmie Bouvard (left) racked up his 10th victory Thursday night as he defeated tough Johnnie Lawther of San Francisco in the main event of OLPH Men's Club amateur show at Community Center. Bouvard handed Lawther his first loss in 15 fights in the middleweight slugfest on the strength of a third-round knockdown. The fine card attracted only 332 paying fans.

'Disappointing' Crowd Witnesses Action-Filled OLPH Boxing Card

Amateur boxing at its best returned to Daly City Community Center Thursday night as a sparse crowd of only 332 was on hand for eight action-crammed bouts sponsored by OLPH Men's Club.

The card, seventh here by OLPH in the past year and a half, proved a financial letdown. Early hopes were for 1000 spectators, matching the response at the Golden Gloves show in March. But OLPHers shook their heads in disappointment, moaning "We'll be lucky to break even."

Good Topper
Best scrap of the night, as expected, was the main go pitting two unbeaten middleweights, San Jose's Jimmie Bouvard and Johnnie Lawther of San Francisco.

The pair traded leather on even terms in the first two rounds, but Bouvard scored a knockdown in the last canto to earn a close nod.

It was his tenth straight win. Lawther's record now stands 14-1.

In Bouvard's corner was Angelo Rogers, manager of Olympic lightweight Lou Molina of San Jose. Molina headlined several OLPH cards here.

The semi-windup middleweight duel was a corker. It saw Cleo Rand of San Francisco pounding out a close decision over fellow townsman Ralph Johnson. Rand put his foe on the canvas in the last round with a chopping right to the jaw.

A knockdown in the first round was enough to carry Ron Herman, Sacramento, to a decisive triumph over James Head, Oakland, in a rousing duel of light heavies. Both boys were jolted many times in the free-swinging affair.

Most riotous mix was the bruising setto between heavies John Hennessey, South City, and Dave Bradley, San Francisco. They threw style out the window and swapped an assortment of unorthodox blows. Referee Tony Bosnich, the ex-San Francisco pro, ruled it a draw after three nip-and-tuck rounds.

Matchmaker for the fine card was Nach Rivera of San Francisco. Joe Tracy served as announcer and Frank Ingersoll was timekeeper.

Other results:
Willie Woods, San Francisco, decided Douglas Tom, Oakland, featherweights.

Warren Tindler, Hayward, decided Mike Martinez, Sacramento, lightweights.

Vern Stewart, Oakland, decided Ray Lopez, San Francisco, welterweights.

Kid Manuel, San Francisco, decided Maxie Adams, Sacramento, middleweights.
